Tournament Classification Explanation

Shot Clock

- Shot clock must be used where it is pre-checked.
- If this is left blank no shot clock will be used at your event.

There are three (3) types of classification. You MUST check one of the following: Female Only, Male Only and Co-ed.

Female Only

In a tournament, a division and level of play that is classified as Female Only consists of teams comprised solely of female players.

Male Only

In a tournament, a division and level of play that is classified as Male Only consists of teams comprised solely of male players.

Co-ed

In a tournament, a division and level of play that is classified as Co-ed consists of teams comprised of both male and female players. To date, a team is considered a Co-ed team should it have one (1) player with a different gender on its roster (i.e.: 13 player team with 1 male and 12 females or 1 female and 12 males).

In a tournament, a division and level of play that is classified as Co-ed may consist of teams from any two or more of the above classifications. For example, there are 4 teams in a Co-ed division/level of play: 1 Male Only team, 2 Female Only and 1 Co-ed, or, there are 3 Female Only teams and 1 Co-ed team.

“What happens if the U14 B division is classified as Female Only and a team with 2 boys on it applies to enter?” There are 2 things that can be done: either disallow the Co-ed team from entering or inform the other teams that a Co-ed team wishes to enter, giving them the right to pull out of the tournament. Should the teams agree to let the Co-ed team participate, the tournament organizers inform their Regional G&T Co-ordinator that the classification will change from Female Only to Co-ed.
